Staffing Update:

I am happy to announce that NRCS is advertising for a Soil Conservation Technician position in the Tekamah Field Office. This position will provide needed technical and engineering conservation planning assistance in the Tekamah FO and within the PMRNRD area. The position opened on May 31 on USAjobs.com and will close Friday June 17th. This is a great opportunity for a recent college graduate or someone looking for an excellent starting career with NRCS.

I do not have much more to report as most of the field staff, including myself, have been busy meeting with producers in the field and spot checking farms and working diligently on CRP and CSP planning at the present time.

Respectfully Submitted

Andy Bohnenkamp
P-MRNRD District Conservationist
